

DOES ANYBODY WANT $160,000

ROBERT ALLEN, SON OF THE LATE WALTER ALLEN, RE-CEIVES MYSTERIOUS LETTER FROM MADRID, SPAIN.

THE GAME IS AN OLD FAKE

Robert Allen, son of the late Walter Allen, Thursday, received a letter from Madrid, Spain, in which the writer asked assistance of Mr. Allen offering in return a modest fortune. The letter is a part of an old game and one whose authenticity would be doubted at first sight. The game is an old one to Greencastle people. About eight years ago W. W. Jones received a similar letter. Later, A. L. Hirt and James B. Nelson each received one.

The letter received by Robert Allen Thursday is as follows:

Madrid, Spain.
Jan 22, 1913.

Dear Sir:—Although I know you only from your good references of your honesty, my sad situation compels me to reveal you an important affair in which you can procure a modest fortune, saving at the same time that of my darling daughter.

Before being imprisoned here, I was established as a banker in Russia as you will see by the enclosed article about me of many English newspapers which have published my arrest in London.

I beseech you to help me to obtain a sum of $480,000 dollars I have in America and to come here to raise the seizure of my luggage by paying to the registrar of the court the expenses of my trial and recover my portmanteaus containing a secret pocket where I have hidden the document indispensable to recover the said sum.

As a reward, I will give up to you the third part viz $160,000 dollars. I cannot receive your answer in the prison but you must send a cablegram to a person of my confidence who will deliver it to me.

Awaiting your cable to instruct you in all my secret, I am ever
Yours truly,
E. IVANOVITCH

First of all, answer by cable, not by letter, as follows: "Ivan Lantos, Lisat Telegrafos—Lantander, Spain. 'Invoice received.'—Allen."

In company with the letter was a clipping telling of the arrest of Ivanovitch.

The clipping purported to be taken from an English newspaper follows:

ARREST OF ST. PETERSBURG BANKER

Charged With Fraud in Russia and Manslaughter in Spain—Interview of Two Ambassadors.

Some months ago, as our readers may remember we referred in these columns to the great scandal caused in St. Petersburg, and in Russia generally, by a noted banker who absconded, leaving a deficit of over five millions of rubles.

The Russian police sought for him for a long time in vain for it seems he had not left the least trace of his flight and the continued search over Europe and America proved unavailing.

Yesterday, however, a Spanish inspector accompanied by two officers from Scotland Yard, and acting under instruction of the Spanish Ambassador who had previously interviewed the Home Secretary, arrested him on his way from the hotel where he was staying, to the steamship office. It seems that it was his evident intention to take passage for New York. From information received by the Ambassador, he had been in hiding in Spain, where he lived with a woman and with his daughter. A few days before arriving in London he had quarrelled with another Russian, who was mortally wounded by a revolver shot during the scuffle, and who only lived long enough to denounce his assailant.

In an interview with the Russian Ambassador, it seems that the name he had been using in Spain, and which he gave on being arrested was not his real one, Mangasella being simply an alibi, but after comparing the prisoner with photographs in his possession, the Russian Ambassador recognized him as Alexis Ivanovitch, the criminal banker, who eloped with five millions of rubles; he is a native of St. Petersburg, a widower, 48 years old, with an only daughter that he left in Spain on escaping from that country.

On being arrested, two of Manasella's or Alexis Ivanovitch portmanteaus were seized but, although strictly searched, nothing but personal effects were found in them, in spite of which, the Russian Ambassador declares that prisoner ought to have several million rubles somewhere.

The Russian and Spanish Ambassadors conferred yesterday evening as to whether the prisoner should be conveyed to Spain or to Russia, and after an interview with the Home Secretary, and in accordance with the extradition treaty of England, Russia and Spain, it was agreed that the prisoner should be conveyed to Spain, to stand his trial for manslaughter, and that only after his trial can the Russian government ask Spain, through diplomatic channels, for his extradition.

NOVEL WAY TO SEND SUBSCRIPTION MONEY.

DANVILLE, Ind., Feb. 6.—A silver dollar has been received at the office of the Plainfield Caller by parcel post from Watita, Okla. On one side was a parcel post one-cent stamp, and on the other side was a piece of paper, cut the size of the dollar and securely pasted. It bore the return mark: "From Lock Box 91, Watita, Okla." The dollar made the trip in safety. It came from Charles Straughan, a real estate man, who sent it to pay his subscription and to test the efficiency of the mail service. It was not registered.

Offer Settlement on Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Attorneys for the defense in the suit of the state against Thomas Nugent to recover an alleged shortage claimed by the state board of accounts, have offered a settlement on the bond for his first term of $117.30 and on the bond for his second term, of $261.82. Two of the bondsmen, Henry S. Stalcup and Martin Nugent, are dead.

LOCAL BIRDS WIN AT INDIANAPOLIS

COUNTY PRODUCES MANY FINE
CHICKENS AS IS SHOWN BY AWARDS MADE IN EXHIBITION
WHERE LOCAL FANCIERS HAVE ENTRIES.

PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR'S SHOW

Once more Putnam county is represented by winners at a poultry exhibition, this time birds from here taking prizes at the poultry show in Indianapolis. Two Greencastle men and one Fillmore man owned chickens winning ribbons at the show. The local men exhibiting and winning prizes were Albert Leutke and Walter Evans, of this city, and Earle Buntin, of Fillmore.

Mr. Leutke's White Langshans took six prizes. They were for first cock, first and fourth hen second cockerel and third and fourth pullet. In the Silver Duck Leghorn class, Earle Buntin, who had charge of the chicken show held here last month, got three prizes, winning the ribbons for first cock, first cockerel and second pullet.

Mr. Evans won one prize, having the fourth best pullet in the White Rock exhibit. Mr. Evans' birds competed against at large field, all of which were fine bred chickens.

It is a notable fact that in every show, no matter where the show is held, Putnam county birds, if entered, get their share of the prizes. Although there are few farmers in the county who specialize in poultry raising, nevertheless, many have pens of fine birds. Putnam county birds have won prizes this year at Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Brazil, Bloomington, Danville and at the local show.

Already the Putnam County Fan- ciers' Association is laying plans for its annual chicken show, which will be held here probably next January. The inclement weather this year demoralized the attendance of the show and hindered it from being a financial success. The men in charge, though, not daunted by the set-back, plan for a larger and better show next year. The judge at the show here last month paid a high compliment on Putnam county birds, saying he had never judged a show where the birds were universally so well bred.

Numerous Putnam county farmers are just beginning to improve their flocks by getting rid of their "scrub" chickens and buying prize winners. In a few years there no doubt will be triple the present number of pure bred birds in the county.

RUNAWAY COUPLE BRAVE ZERO WEATHER TO WED.

Reelsville Couple Drove to Brazil at 5 O'clock Thursday Morning to Wed.

Defying old Boreas with six below zero weather to interfere with their romance a young couple from Reelsville, accompanied by two friends, drove to Brazil long before day break this morning and were married here.

The young people appeared at the office of Esquire George E. Law about 4:30 o'clock and aroused the marrying squire who had taken "to the hay" just a short time before after a social function.

The couple stated that they were eloping and asked that the marriage be kept a secret. Law was persuaded to officiate after he saw that their license was O. K. The famous gretna green was as cold as Greenland's icy mountain, there having been no fire since eight o'clock the evening before, but the happy couple clasped numb hands while the squire shivered through the ceremony.—Brazil Times.

John Cooper was in Indianapolis, on business, today.

Wants $10,000 Traction Money.

The $10,000 damage suit of Mary Wyant vs. T. H. I. & E. Traction company has been brought to this county for trial on a change of venue. The case was originally filed in the Putnam court, venue to Clay and then to this place. The plaintiff sues for damages on account of the death of her husband, who was killed east of Greencastle on Aug. 10, 1911. He was crossing the interurban track in an auto when he was struck. The company is charged with negligence because it had no warning sign at the crossing. The victim resided in St. Louis and was not familiar with the road.—Danville Gazette.

ROLLER TO WRESTLE TONIGHT

Hopes to Throw German Champ in Straight Falls at Indianapolis.

Dr. B. F. Roller will leave Chicago at noon today and arrive in Indianapolis this evening for his wrestling bout with Billy Schultz, the German champion, at the Empire Theater tonight. Schultz, it is expected, will be here this morning. Jerry Walls says he believes the one bout between the two heavyweights will satisfy the fans, since it is to a finish match. Roller, who has been matched to meet Charley Cutler in Chicago is eager to win over the German, and he hopes to down him in straight falls. The wrestling bout will be staged immediately following the regular show.—Indianapolis Star.

GAME WARDEN MAKES CATCH

TWO ITALIANS EMPLOYED ON MO-
NON SECTION BEFORE SQUIRE
JOHN SHARP AT BAINBRIDGE
THIS MORNING FOR HUNTING
WITHOUT LICENSES.

EACH FINED $5 AND COSTS

Two Italian Monon section hands were arrested by Deputy State Game Warden Joe C. Williams near Bainbridge this morning charged with hunting without licenses. The two were taken before Squire John Sharp at Bainbridge, and fined $5 and costs each. The hunting trip cost each of the Italians $40.

The two were caught on Mr. Williams' farm which is located near Bainbridge. They had no licenses and also were hunting on the farm without consent of the owner. When arraigned before Squire Sharp this morning both entered pleas of guilty paying their fines.

THE SHOE MAKERS RECEIVE ATTENTION

In Louisiana, and perhaps in other States, there is in force a "pure shoe law" which protects the people against fraud in the manufacture of shoes, and the law is proving a success. Now Indiana is about to get into line. Representative Storen has prepared a bill along these lines. It provides that it shall be unlawful within the state for any person, firm or corporation to use in manufacturing any boot or shoe, a counter, heel, insole, outsole, middle sole, or slip sole, made in whole or part of leather-board straw board, leatherloid, fiber-board, horn, fiber-plate, or any other substitute for leather without stamping with a metal disc on the outside of the outsole, showing where and by whom the boot or shoe was made, and what substitute for leather has been used.

It would be unlawful, under the bill for any one to sell or offer for sale any boot or shoe in which a substitute for leather had been used without designating that the substitute had been used, and in what part of the boot or shoe.

The penalty for violation would be a fine of from $25 to $500 and imprisonment from ten days to six months in the discretion of the court or jury. If the bill passes it will become effective July 1, 1914.

ILLNESS FATAL TO WALTER MYERS

LOCAL MAN EXPIRES IN DEACONESS HOSPITAL AT INDIANAPOLIS AT 2:15 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON, DEATH FOLLOWING OPERATION PERFORMED ABOUT TWO WEEKS AGO.

NO FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Walter Myers, who has been in the Deaconess Hospital at Indianapolis since he underwent an operation for an abscess of the brain, a week ago last Sunday, died at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Myers' condition had been critical during the past few days that there had been no hope for his recovery.

Mr. Myers suffered for some time before being taken to the hospital. After an examination at the hospital it was decided by the physicians that an operation was necessary, it being the only method by which there was any chance of saving his life. He rallied after the operation but a relapse soon came. He continued to grow gradually worse until his death.

Mr. Myers leaves a widow and one child. Besides these, his mother, three brothers and one sister, survive him. His brothers are Clyde Myers and Harry Myers, and his sister, Miss Ella Myers, who is employed at the Allen Brothers store.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

BAILEY O'NEAL, OLD PIONEER AND CIVIL WAR VETERAN, DIES

Bailey O'Neal, for many years a resident of this county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ollie Harcourt, near Cloverdale, Thursday afternoon, his death being due to the infirmities of old age. Mr. O'Neal leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Harcourt. The funeral services will be held at the Providence church, near Mt. Meridian, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Elder Gill of Cloverdale, and Elder Dalby of this city, will have charge of the services. Mr. O'Neal was a veteran of the Civil War. For many years he was a resident of Washington township but later lived near Cloverdale. During recent years he had lived with his daughter near Cloverdale.

Hell.

Hell will be the subject discussed Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Christian Church. Wherever this sermon has been preached by Mr. Beard it has caused a great deal of comment and renewed interest in the Old Book. The Hebrew, Greek and English words used in connection with this subject will be fully explained.

People are or have come to that time when they are saying, "Well, I believe this and that," and then take for granted because they believe so and so, that what they believe is the truth, regardless of what the Bible teaches. Thousands of opinions are formed without consulting the Bible hence so many mistakes and misleading opinions. Do not ask anyone else what the preacher said about this subject but come and hear for yourself. Come early and get a seat to suit you, or attend the Endeavor which begins at 6:30.

It is provided in the new law that the city council in the city of the fifth class shall do the work cut out for boards of public works in larger cities, and that the town board shall do the same duties under the new powers in incorporated towns. The work of controller in the larger cities will fall to the city or town clerk in the smaller places.

Youngster Wins First Trial Case.

Col. Harvey got "balled up" in his law suit schedule Tuesday by having two cases on trial the same day. He was engaged in the trial of the Lingman vs. Brownsburg case here and over at Greencastle the Jones vs. T. H. I. & E. Traction company, in which Mr. Harvey was counsel for plaintiff, was called for trial and would not postpone a cent's worth. The colonel's son, Drenan, volunteered to go over to Greencastle and take the "old man's" place. Whether or not the "old man" was skeptic the suggestion was adopted and Drenan came back with the bacon—a judgment of $215 being rendered for his client, and it was his maiden case.—Danville Gazette.

MUCH AFFLICTED HORSE CAUSE OF SUIT NOW ON TRIAL

A horse alleged to be afflicted with the "scratches," "greasy-heels," "moon-eyed" and "thick-winded" was the cause of a suit on a note before Judge Hughes today. The suit was brought by Thomas Tuttle and against Alfred Haynes, and asks judgment on a promissory note of $138. The complaint asks judgment in the sum of $153, together with attorney fees. Two attorneys B. F. Corwin and S. A. Hays, were placed on the stand to give their estimate of fair fees for the plaintiff's attorney. Mr. Corwin gave $50 as his estimate, and Mr. Hays said the case was worth from $25 to $50, depending on the length of the trial.

The horse in question was bought by Haynes at a sale held by Mr. Tuttle. The horse, the defense alleged, was represented to be sound with the exception of a slight affliction of pink eye and a lameness in one shoulder. Mr. Haynes bid the horse in, giving his note for the purchase price. After owning the horse only a short time, it is alleged, Mr. Haynes found it to be suffering from the four ailments already mentioned. Therefore, he refused to pay the note. Clarence Vestal, Robert Allen, George Hinton and several other witnesses were examined in regard to the value of the horse. The examination by the attorneys in regard to "greasy heels" and other disease peculiar to horses caused considerable amusement to the witnesses and spectators.

Enrollment of Voters.

Complying with the provisions of an act that has been on the statute books since 1867, the township trustees will begin in a short time the taking of a complete poll of the voters of each of the townships of the county.

The law requires that all trustees in the state shall take an enumeration of voters once in each six years. It so happens that 1913 is the year in which the present trustees have to perform their duty. The work must be completed by July 1.

The trustee files his report with the county auditor who in turn files the report for the county complete with the state auditor. The latter is required when all county reports are in to make a tabular statement showing the enumeration of voters by counties, and to publish therewith a map of the state, showing the shape of each county and the number of voters living therein.

HUNTER GASES SET FOR MONDAY

THREE SUITS ASKING $25,000
DAMAGES FROM TRACTION COMPANY AND RESULTING FROM ACCIDENT ON BIG WAL-NUT CREEK BRIDGE, TO BE TRIED IN HENDRICKS COUNTY.

RUN DOWN BY TRACTION CAR

The three cases of Hunter against the traction company, in which $25,000 damages are asked and which was venued from the local circuit court to the Hendricks county tribunal, is set for trial next Monday morning. Mr. Hunter, his wife and children were run down by an interurban car while they were walking across the bridge spanning Big Walnut Creek. They had been carried past their stop by the car and, after leaving the car, started to walk back. An eastbound car, approaching with great rapidity, run Mr. Hunter and his family down before they could leave the bridge. One child was struck by the car and knocked into the water, some twenty-five feet below. The child died on the day following the accident. Mr. Hunter and his wife and other child lay down on the bridge just outside of the tracks. Mrs. Hunter failed to get far enough away from the rails and was struck by the side of the car. She was badly injured and, it is alleged, her injuries are permanent. One of the suits asks $10,000 damages for the death of the son, another $10,000 for the injuries to Mrs. Hunter and the third $5,000, brought by Mr. Hunter for the loss of his wife's services because of her injuries. The cases will be hard fought.

A. J. NELSON IS SUED FOR DIVORCE. Former Greencastle Man Defendant in Sensational Suit—Married Only Three Weeks.

Married life was short and not sweet for Emma L. and Andrew J. Nelson, according to a complaint for divorce filed in the Circuit Court by the wife. They were married Christmas eve last and separated less than three weeks afterward says Mrs. Nelson in her petition. Improper relations with another woman and loss of love and respect are set forth by Mrs. Nelson for a decree of divorce being granted her. Besides asking divorce she asks alimony in the sum of $2,500. Mrs. Nelson lives in Waveland.

That the husband committed adultery during their married life is charged by Mrs. Nelson. She further charges that her husband wrote her telling of the other woman whom he described as she "looked good to him."

The triangle of the case came Jan. 8, according to the complaint, when the husband said he no longer loved or respected his wife and went to Indianapolis to live with the other woman. Nelson, the complaint says, has real estate in Putnam county valued at $2,000 and personal property of the value of $1500, besides an income of $15 a week.—Crawfordsville Journal.

TELEGRAPH POLE OF CRYSTAL

Streets in French City Paved With Glass Blocks Also Asserted to Give Satisfaction.

The increasing uses to which crystal is being put are little short of marvelous. In Lyons there are many streets paved with glass blocks, these being adjusted so perfectly that water is not able to pass between them. It is said that the glass pavement has a greater resistance than stone and is a bad conductor of heat, for which reason ice does not form readily on the surface. Moreover, it is beyond question more durable than stone, it is cheaper and more easily portable, and it offers neither interstices nor hollows where mud can lodge.

In Germany, near Frankfurt, there is a factory for the manufacture of crystal telegraph poles. In order to give better solidity to the crystal mass of the posts they carry a framework of thick wire. These posts are better than wood because they perfectly resist the attacks of insects and are impervious to atmospheric influences.

Dresses made of crystal thread have been known for some time. Dresses of spun crystal have a brilliancy like silk. Curtains, carpets, mantles, and relatively fine textures generally are being made of crystal, while factories are going up in various parts of western Europe for the furthering of this industry.—Harper's Weekly.

SILK GROWERS IN COMPLAINT

Manufacture of Artificial Article Is Bitterly Resented by French Dealers in the Real Thing.

The silk makers of France are waging an unusual war against the makers of artificial silk, which was produced last year to the amount of 6,000,000 kilos (a kilo is 2.2 pounds), according to the Berlin chamber of commerce.

The better grades of this artificial silk sell for $3 a kilo, and the cheapest as low as $1.20. On the other hand, real silk costs at least $8.40 a kilo to produce. The effect of this competition is shown by the falling off in the production of silk. The number of silk worm raisers has declined since 1892 from 119,000 to 102,000, and the product has declined 40 per cent., to only 425,000 kilos.

Appeals to the law are being made by the silk growers, who saw that the use of the word "artificial" in connection with silk is not enough to protect them against ruinous competition.

Wedding Ring.

Most people know that the reason the wedding ring is put on the fourth finger of the left hand is said to be because the first two fingers and the thumb were counted all as fingers, and therefore as three. The thumb used to be the ring finger anciently, and the seal rings of those in authority were placed on this first short, thick finger, the most useful of the hand. The wedding ring is the modern descendant of this old-time thumb ring and was removed to the fourth finger in this way: The first three were named for the three persons of the Trinity, and at the word amen, after the naming of the three, the ring reached the fourth finger and was left there. In reality, the ring finger is the safest place for it.

There is another and less pleasant origin, too, for the wedding ring. The old rings were the mark of bondage as well as of dignity.

The Gentleman.

Carlyle said of Robert Burns that there was no truer gentleman in Europe than the plowman poet. It was because he loved everything—the mouse and the daisy, and all the things, great and small, that God had made. So with this simple passport he could mingle with any society, and enter courts and palaces from his little cottage on the banks of the Ayr. You know the meaning of the word "gentleman." It means a gentle man—a man who does things gently with love. And that is the whole art and mystery of it. The gentleman cannot in the nature of things do an ungentle, an ungentlemanly thing. The ungentle soul, the inconsiderate, unsympathetic nature cannot do anything else.—Henry Drummond.

Didn't Improve Situation.

There was a certain master of fox-hounds in one of the English shires who was greatly angered by the awkwardness of one of the gentlemen who invariably rode over the hounds. At one of the meets the M. F. H. rode up to the awkward hunter and, in the most chilling tones, said: "Mr. So-and-so, there are two dogs in the peck today, Snap and Tatters, which I am especially fond of and I would esteem it a favor if you would avoid killing or maiming them with your horse's hoofs." "Certainly, my dear fellow," replied Mr. So-and-so, "but as I do not know them will you be kind enough to put tags on them for me."

Master of Languages.

Sir Charles Elliot, the new principal of Hong-Kong university, is forty-seven years old and speaks 23 languages fluently. For many years he was in the diplomatic service and to every country to which he was sent he mastered the language, beginning with Russia in 1887. In 1889 he brought out a Finnish grammar. During his course at Oxford he had not only swept the board of all the classical distinctions within reach, but while still an undergraduate, had won the Boden Sanskrit scholarship and the Syriac prize.

HANDY IN A POULTRY YARD

Water Device, Shown in the Illustration, Works Automatically—How It Is Made.

The illustration given herewith shows a handy device for watering chickens, writes Richard Lee of Neosha Falls, Kan., in an exchange. Set an airtight keg or barrel on a stand or box with a small pipe A leading from the bottom of the keg to the bottom of the trough, while another pipe B extends from below the upper level of the trough up into the head of the barrel. Fill the keg and cork up tightly, then remove cork from bottom of pipe A and the water will run into the trough until it rises high enough to shut the air off at the lower end of pipe B, when the water will stop running. When the water in the trough is lowered enough to admit air into pipe B the water will again run from A.

RAT-PROOF CHICKEN ROOST

Ample Protection Afforded Against Predatory Animals by Device Suspended from Roof.

The accompanying illustration shows a convenient chicken roost which is proof against rats, minks and weasels. This roost is made of two pieces of plank four feet long, four inches broad and one inch thick; five pieces of plank three feet long, two inches broad and one inch thick; four pieces of wire about eight feet long.

Chicken Roost.

As shown in the illustration, the three-foot pieces are nailed crosswise to the four-foot pieces and a wire attached to all four corners. It is then suspended from the roof in the chicken house with the front end of the roost about sixteen inches from the floor while the back should be twenty-seven inches.

POULTRY NOTES

The caponizing season is at an end.

Start the trap nests if you are keeping a record of your winter layers. The battle with vermin is a never-ending one, because the lice never quit.

The early pullets are beginning to lay, but, as a general thing, eggs are very scarce.

The best remedy for sick fowls is the ax, but with proper precaution they won't get sick.

Two or three applications of kerosene to scaly legs makes as sure a remedy as can be found.

There are those who begin with scrubs, intending to keep purebreds later on, but they seldom do.

It is possible for the hens to lay when shedding their feathers, but not when growing the new crop.

Chaff about straw stacks makes good scratching litter and the sooner it is hauled up the better it will be.

If the poultry-house is overcrowded, kill off some of the older birds. Keep stocked up with young thrifty layers.

Those old hens may be valuable as "keep sakes" but the young and vigorous ones will produce the most eggs.

Do give the later summer-hatched chicks a chance to eat their meals without being run over by older birds.

Excited men and women make excited birds, and that has a bad effect on the egg-producing mechanism of the birds.

Sell all the old hens that you do not intend to winter. At this season they command a reasonably good price in market.

Get in your winter supplies and utensils—this includes the incubators and brooders, and what new stock you must purchase.

You may think you know a good deal about how to raise poultry, but the deeper you go into it the more surprises you will find.

GREAT MEN OF PRESENT DAY

English Writer Accords Honors to Those He Deems Have Made Their Names Worthy of Mention.

"Doubtless," writes Clement Shorter, in the Strand, "there are many great men living today—men with prospective greatness—but only time can decide. In my judgment, there is no man in the world today who is great in any walk of life in so striking a way that his contemporaries can unhesitatingly proclaim him great. History has proclaimed the elder Pitt a great man, but not so certainly his son. It has assigned this epithet to Palmerston or Peel, and it is too early yet to decide whether it will concede it to Gladstone or Disraeli. The great man is surely he who, by force of genius, has impressed himself upon his age in some permanent form. Whether the achievements of Mr. Roosevelt or of Emperor William are of this character had better be decided a century hence. As you ask me, however, to join in what can scarcely be a serious discussion, I suggest that we take the name of a living man from each country who, by invention or creation, stamped himself upon his age. I therefore nominate the ten greatest men of the present day as follows:

MADE MATTER OF NECESSITY

According to This, There Is Little Doubt About Colored Man's Liking for Chickens.

In the endeavor to uplift the race, a friend of ours started in by trying to smash silly old superstitions. Our friend believes that negroes are malign, and that many of the stock jokes about them are not founded on fact. He has, in fact, succeeded in proving that a number of the old minstrel standbys are mere senseless jests. And the other day he interviewed the elevator boy in his office building.

"Arthur," he said, "there's a silly old saying that you colored people are crazy about chickens. I can't see how that started. Do you like chicken?"

"Yassah."

"Of course—almost everybody likes chickens. I mean to say, do you like it better than anything else in the world? Do you like it so well that you would steal it if you couldn't obtain it honestly?"

"Boss, I likes chicken so well dat if I couldn't git it no other way, I'd buy it!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Changed Times.

Miss Mary Donnelly—"Our Mary"—the New York suffragist, said at the suffrage lunch rooms:

"I was walking the other week in Long Island. The sky was blue. The crystal air was pure and frosty. The trees were painted with autumnal colors—gold, and pink, and raw red. How beautiful it was!"

"In a meadow a half dozen young women were practicing putting. They looked very smart in their trim golf suits, their skirts of rough homespun, and their scarlet jackets. As I watched them, an old farmer and one of his farm hands approached. 'Boss,' grumbled the farm hand, 'them girls in the medder is scarin' our cows.'"

"The old farmer shook his head and sighed.

"'Ah, Timothy,' he said, with profound truth, 'times is changed since I was young. In them days the cows scared the gals.'"

Parents Object to Sunday School.

The falling off in attendance in the Sunday schools, which was the subject of a discussion at the convention of the New York County Sunday School association, was referred to by a layman after the meeting had adjourned as "a progressive disease."

And that the Presbyterian Sunday schools are not the only ones where there had been a falling off "from 21 to 34 per cent." "To a great extent," he said, "the condition is the result of too much school work. Parents say that after a strenuous week at school the child should have work of no kind on Sunday. That's the excuse of those parents who seldom go to church because of golf and motor cars—and there are thousands of them."—New York Tribune.

Old Proverbs About Apples.

No fruit has played a more important part in sacred or profane history than the apple, of which Solomon made good use in his proverbs, "stolen apples are sweet," and a word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

A good many English doctors prescribe an apple for either the first or last meal. The Dutch equivalent for our "two birds with one stone" is "two apples with one stick," and the origin in the saying, "A windy year, an apple year," dates back to the days of the Norman.

Postage Into Arctic Circle.

A rural mail carrier with a dog team left Edmonton, in western Canada, last week over a route which probably is the longest in the world. He will journey many hundred miles within the Arctic Circle, and will not return until shortly before the thaw next spring.

His mail will be made up of letters exclusively, no newspapers or parcels being accepted.

JUST A LITTLE SMILE

All the Qualifications.

Among a large number of amusing letters received by David Belasco was the following:

"Venerated Sir:
"Wishing to go on the stage, would like to join your forces. Have been a bricklayer for five years, but having failed in this branch have decided to take up acting, the same being easier work. I am not young, but six feet in my stocking feet. Have studied elocution and am fond of late hours."
—Everybody's.

Professional Innuendo.

An extremely thin actress was boasting of her achievements in stock. "I have been the Girl in the 'Girl of the Golden West,' and the Rose in the 'Rose of the Rancho.'"

Yorick Hamm looked at her. "And I suppose," said he, "that if Charley Hoyt had ever seen you, you would have been the original match in the 'Parlor Match.'"

The Retort Pertinent.

"Look at me!" exclaimed the leading lawyer warmly. "I never took a drop of medicine in my life, and I am as strong as any two of your patients put together."

"Well, that's nothing," retorted the physician. "I never went to law in my life, and I'm as rich as any two dozen of your clients put together."

A TERRIBLE THOUGHT.

The Heiress—I want to be loved for myself!

Count de Broke (apprehensively)—My dear lady, is there any possibility of this being a case of mistaken identity?

A Cry From the Depths.

The autumn leaves are falling. In places we could name. Oh, that the cost of living would only do the same!

A Teutonic Teaser.

Hans—"Und vy, Pat, is der no snakes in Ireland?"
Pat—"Begorra, and didn't holy St. Patrick drive them all away?"
Hans—"Now, snakes is animals dat love peace and quiet. When der Irish came de snakes all left.—Satire.

An Amateur.

"He told me I was the only girl he had ever loved."

"And you believed him?"

"Yes, I believed him. He got the piano between us before he could get up the courage to tell me."

Always Alone.

"When are you alone in the store?" asked the friend.

"Pretty much all the time," answered the clerk. "My boss doesn't advertise."

Classified.

"He's a darned fool!"

"You mean that he is not as clever as he thinks he is?"

"I mean he is as clever as his wife thinks he is."

A Significant Detail.

"I am convinced there is something about our new neighbors they want to keep hidden."

"What makes you think that?"

"Their hired girl is deaf and dumb."

Business Associations.

"Was there much fuss about the telephone girl's breaking her engagement?"

"No—simply a case of ring off."

His Inclinations.

"I saw that old yachtsman lurching toward the sidewalk just now."

"I see he is evidently listing to port."

A Slap at Mother.

"Pa, what is an 'open letter'?"

"Any letter addressed to me that get when I arrive home, my son."

FINE IRISH HIGHWAY

Is That Constructed Through the Wicklow Mountains.

Built by Lord Cornwallis After the Suppression of the Rebellion of 1798, It Passes Through Remarkably Pretty Country.

Dublin.—There is a wonderful Irish road which if it existed almost anywhere else would be far more familiar to tourists than it now is. Motorists are beginning to find it, however, and before long "the Irish Stimpson" will be as famous as it deserves to be for the grandeur of the scenery through which it passes is hardly surpassed in the British Isles.

Every schoolboy has read of the roads constructed by Marshal Wade to facilitate the pacification of the highlands of Scotland after the Jacobite rising of 1715, says the English Queen. Wade employed 500 soldiers in the work, who received sixpence a day extra pay and whom he facetiously termed his highwaymen. Few if any histories, however, record the fact that similar works were undertaken in Ireland in connection with the suppression of the rebellion of 1798. The most remarkable of these Irish military roads traverses the central line of the Wicklow mountains.

Until the close of the eighteenth century there were only three passes, Wicklow gap, Sally gap and Glenmalur, by which the retreats of the great Wicklow chain could be approached, and each was almost impassable. After defeat in the open field the rebels of '98 retreated to these wild fastnesses, where for several months they defied the efforts of the government to dislodge them.

Sovexations and formidable did this mountain warfare become that the idea of taking a leaf out of Marshal Wade's book suggested itself to the lord lieutenant, Lord Cornwallis. He ordered the construction of what is known as "the Great Military Road" in order to lay open the most inaccessible tracts. As it was deemed expedient to station troops at certain strategic points four extensive baracks were erected upon the road.

The main road begins four miles south of Dublin and terminates in the southwest of the County Wicklow. The distance between the two extremities as the crow flies is about 30 miles, but owing to the spiral windings round the contours of the mountains the total distance traversed is much greater. In addition there are branch roads running up minor valleys and circling hills which sheltered outlaws and desperadoes.

This fine work was executed between the years 1799 and 1801 by regiments of Highland militia. With the exception of the level in one valley called Glenmacnass the engineer was not enabled to take advantage of a single vale. As a rule the gleans in these mountains run from east to west, while the direction of the road is from north to south, hence the latter keeps for nearly the whole distance a solitary mountain course at the height of 1,600 or 1,700 feet above the sea and but seldom descends to any of the valleys.

The road was most skillfully engineered as regards gradients in order to render it passable for artillery. There are but few parts of it which are not rideable by the cyclist mounted on a machine equipped with three speeds. That the work was effected in the most durable manner is clear from the fact that although very little has been spent on maintenance during the last half century, the road still presents through bogs and morasses a smooth and level surface and a substratum perfectly strong and well rounded.

MULES ON A FRISCO RAMPAGE

Animals Break from Corral, Devastate Flower Gardens and Cause Panic.

San Francisco.—One hundred and thirty-eight head of "Missouri's finest" mules, just detained upon their arrival from St. Louis for use at the Presidio, the local United States army post, broke from their corral, devastated flower gardens, struck panic to the hearts of civilians and police who attempted to round them up and otherwise enjoyed the freedom of the city for nearly twenty-four hours.

A detachment of cavalry finally rounded up 137 of the mules, but one is still missing, along with several hundred dollars' worth of flowers, vegetables and garden fences.

PROUD OF NATIVE COUNTRY

Visitor From Costa Rica Extols Conditions He Says Are Prevailing In That Country.

Baltimore.—"Though small and as yet in the infancy of its development, Costa Rica is thoroughly progressive," said Dr. Vincent Castro of San Jose, Costa Rica, who is perhaps the leading surgeon of that Central American republic. "Our present chief executive, Lic don Ricardo Jimenez, is one of the ablest statesmen of this generation, a lawyer of profound attainments, and were he a resident of this powerful northern nation he would be esteemed worthy to hold the highest office in the gift of the people."

"At this time we choose our president for a four-year term in an indirect way, through electors chosen for that purpose, but two years from now we shall discard this system and all future presidents will be chosen by direct popular ballot."

"All male Costa Ricans of voting age are given the suffrage, the sole qualification being the ability to read and write. There is no rancor or bitterness in our election contests and the faction that is beaten acquiesces cheerfully in the verdict of the polls. Our presidents have an extraordinary appointive power, and they show their magnanimity by naming their political enemies for some of the highest offices under the government."

"The government, as I said before, is as stable as any of the big powers and its security has a firm basis in the enlightenment of the people. It owns and operates a railway from San Jose, the capital, to Punta Arenas, on the Pacific ocean, which, contrary to most state-owned lines, is a financial success. Our monetary system is excellent, being on a gold basis. The unit of value is the colon, which rarely goes below 45 cents in United States money. A coin worth 90 cents, or two colons, is gold, the smaller coinage being silver; and besides that the banks issue paper currency that, being redeemable in gold, is always good. No notes are issued by our government."

"The coffee trade remains a heavy source of revenue. Besides these items, we have all kinds of precious minerals, including a number of good paying gold mines and virgin forests of mahogany and other ornamental woods, only a fraction of which has been cut for exportation."

"Outside of a few thousand blacks from Jamaica, who work for the banana company, and approximately 5,000 Guatusos—native Indians living in a remote district—the population of Costa Rica is of the original Spanish stock, the racial strain having kept its ancient purity. Ours is essentially a white man's country, as our people, with rare exceptions, decline intermarriage with those of inferior grade, and hence we have been able to evolve and maintain a creditable civilization. In proportion Costa Rica spends more for education than any of the Latin-American governments, our schools costing more than any other single item in the national budget. Education is compulsory and 95 per cent of the children receive free instruction in the primary and secondary schools."

CELEBRATES 100TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Samuel Sipe, of Carlisle, Pa., Attributes Her Long Life to Temperance in All Things.

Carlisle, Pa.—Entertaining friends and acquaintances here recently, Mrs. Samuel Sipe of Carlisle, a girl friend of "Molly Pitcher," the heroine of Monmouth, celebrated her one hundredth birthday. Mrs. Sipe was born in Switzerland October 5, 1812, and came to this country when she was six years old. She crossed the ocean in a sailing vessel, which took about six weeks to make the trip, landing in Philadelphia, where she lived one year before coming to Carlisle. Mrs. Sipe lived here ninety-three years ago. Retaining all her faculties with the exception of her sight, which is slowly failing, Mrs. Sipe today is in good health. She said she expected to live several years longer. When told that a few friends were coming to see her she exclaimed:

"What for? I'm no curiosity, I'm only an ordinary human being."

Mrs. Sipe attributes her long life and good health to temperance in all things, especially in eating.

Mrs. Sipe well remembers "Mollie Pitcher," has talked with her often, hearing her tell of the battle of Monmouth and the good treatment she received at the hands of the soldiers.

"It took us about a week to go from Philadelphia to Carlisle," said the centenarian, "as we travelled by stage coach, and the roads were not very good in those times."

The first railroad train which was operated by the Cumberland Valley Railroad company, Mrs. Sipe said, caused much excitement in Carlisle, as the trial trip was made on July 4, 1857, the train making a trip of about two and a half miles.

SCIENCE and INVENTION

FOR WRAPPING SMALL COINS

Paper Tube Closed at Bottom and Folding Flaps at Top Intended to Aid Bank Clerks.

A little device which will save bank clerks a great deal of time is the coin package invented by a New York man. With this the clerk will simply drop, say $5 worth of dimes, into the receptacle and close the top. There will be no rolling the coins up in a flat piece of paper and closing both ends. The device here shown consists of a paper tube closed at one end with the open end slightly enlarged and having two projecting wings. The requisite number of coins is dropped into the tube, it is given a sharp tap on the desk to settle them all evenly and the wings are bent inward and the top turned down to close the package. The wings and top flap can be gummed if desired, but this is not necessary.

NEW AID FOR PHOTOGRAPHER

Trouble of Getting Right Exposure of Plate Eliminated by English Manufacturer.

To the amateur photographer the great bugaboo in his work is arriving at the proper exposure of the plate. With most of the snapshot cameras now in use this is impossible, as they are adjusted for an average exposure; but the trouble is experienced when he comes to the point of making time exposures. This trouble has been met by an English manufacturing firm by the addition of certain chemicals to the sensitive emulsion of the plate or film which makes over-exposure impossible. This is particularly valuable in inside work, where the brilliantly illuminated portion of the room near the window calls for a short exposure and the darker parts for much more, and in this case it is impossible to expose for the shadow parts without overdoing the lighter portions. An exposure of forty times that of normal is permissible, and the plates developed in the ordinary manner; but where, for any reason, the exposure has been greater than that, a special developer is recommended.

DATES REVOLVE ON HANDLE

Calendar Pen, Intended Especially for Forgetful Business Man, Recently Put on Market.

An ingenious device, and one that will be useful to the forgetful business man, is the calendar pen, invented by an Illinois man. If the user wants to know the date of the month, all he has to do is to consult the handle of the pen and find it there. The handle has a barrel revolving on it and a calendar in the barrel. Of course, it must be set each day, but that can be done by the office boy, whose memory in some matters, notably the batting average of the big leagues, is marvelous. The dates of the thirty-one days are mounted on a series of rings on the handle of the pen and the barrel has openings through which the right date can be seen when the calendar is set. By means of a locking device there is no possibility of the barrel turning to show the wrong figures.

Don't Take Chances

You run a good many chances. When you place a trust such as the handling of an estate in the hands of an individual. He may be in experienced; he may prove incompetent; he may be burdened with other duties; he may be absent from home when his presence is most needed; he may meet with an accident; become ill and die, and you can not tell how soon.

Avoid these risks by committing your trusts to a corporation like ours, who has had experience and whose charges are generally about one-half what the individual would ask for the same amount of responsibilities. Come in and let us tell you all about our methods of doing business.
